

Contents

Introduction xi

PART ONE – ORIENTATIONS

1. Beyond the Limits 3
 Human Ecologies
 Tomorrow Comes Anyway
 The Illusion of Independence

2. The Way of Succession 19
 Succession in Action
 Succession and Agriculture
 Succession and Technic Societies
 The Long Road to Sustainability

3. A Short History of the Future 37
 Glimpsing the Deindustrial Age
 The Depopulation Explosion
 Völkerwanderung
 Culture Death
 A Different Planet
 The World Is Round

4. Toward the Ecotechnic Age	57
What Evolution Means
The End of Affluence
The Age of Scarcity Industrialism
The Age of Salvage
The Coming of the Ecotechnic Age

PART TWO – RESOURCES

5. Preparations	79
Projecting the Shadow
The Effects of Homeostasis
The Twilight of Technology
Adaptive Responses
A Time For Dissensus
The Mariner’s Two Hands
6. Food	101
The Next Agriculture
Compost as Template
In the Dark with Both Hands
Pieces of the Puzzle
7. Home	119
Tomorrow’s Homes
Retrofitting the Future
The Household Economy
The Decline and Fall of Home Economics
The Specialization Trap
8. Work	141
A Hundred Energy Slaves
The Deindustrial Want Ads
The Twilight of Automation
Trailing-Edge Technologies

9.	Energy	159
	The Innovation Fallacy
	The Paradox of Production
	Jevons' Alternative
	Master Conservers
10.	Community	177
	Lifeboat Ecovillages
	Cities in the Deindustrial Future
	The Ecology of Social Change
11.	Culture	191
	A Failure of Mimesis
	The Twilight of Culture
	Cultural Conservers
	Religion and the Survival of Culture
12.	Science	209
	Saving Science
	Appropriate Ecology
	Toward Ecosophy

PART THREE – POSSIBILITIES

13.	The Ecotechnic Promise	225
	History's Arrow
	History's Wheel
	History, Meaning and Choice
	The Eyes of Nature
	Afterword	245
	Notes	247
	Bibliography	255
	Index	263
	About the Author	271