

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1. Sustaining Agriculture in a Changing Climate	1
Early Systems of Agriculture	2
American Agriculture	6
The Rise of Industrial Agriculture	11
The Geography of the US Food Supply	15
Sustainability Challenge to the US Food System	20
Sustainable Agriculture: A Resilient Agriculture?	22
Voices from the Field	25
The Climate Change Challenge	33
2. Understanding Exposure	41
Climate Change in the 20th-Century United States	43
Projected Climate Changes Through the 21st Century	49
Managing Climate Risk	54
Understanding Agricultural Exposure	57
Reducing Exposure	61
3. Understanding Sensitivity	65
Crop Sensitivities	66
Indirect Effects on Plants: Weeds, Insects, and Diseases	82
Livestock Sensitivities	85
Natural Resource Sensitivities	88
Human, Built and Financial Resources	90
Potential Impact Is a Function of Exposure and Sensitivity	91

4. Understanding Adaptive Capacity	95
The Operating Context	100
Individual Capability	102
Existing Knowledge and Options.	105
Enhancing Adaptive Capacity with
Sustainable Agriculture	107
Economic Sustainability: Managing for Profitability	108
Social Sustainability: Managing for Family
and Community Well-being	108
Ecological Sustainability: Managing for Ecosystem Health	109
Putting It All Together: Systems of Sustainable Agriculture	117
Lessons from the Field: Is Sustainable Agriculture
Climate Ready?	119
5. Vegetables	127
Northwest
Nash Huber, Nash's Organic Produce, Sequim, Washington	128
Southwest
Paul Muller, Full Belly Farm, Guinda, California	131
Brendon Rockey, Rockey Farms, Center, Colorado	135
Jacquie Monroe, Monroe Family Farms, Kersey, Colorado	138
Midwest
Richard de Wilde, Harmony Valley Farm, Viroqua,
Wisconsin	141
Northeast
Jim Crawford, New Morning Farm, Hustontown,
Pennsylvania.	143
Elizabeth Henderson, Peacework Farm, Newark, New York	147
Southeast
Ken Dawson, Maple Spring Gardens, Cedar Grove,
North Carolina	151
Alex Hitt, Peregrine Farm, Graham, North Carolina	156
Challenges to the Adaptive Capacity of Sustainable
Vegetable Production	162

6. Fruits and Nuts	165
Northwest
Kole Tonnemaker, Tonnemaker Hill Farm, Royal City, Washington	166
Southwest
Steve Ela, Ela Family Farms, Hotchkiss, Colorado	170
Midwest
Dan Shepherd, Shepherd Farms, Clifton, Missouri	178
Jim Koan, Almar Farm and Orchards, Flushing, Michigan. . .	182
Northeast
Jonathan Bishop, Bishop's Orchards, Guilford, Connecticut .	189
Challenges to the Adaptive Capacity of Sustainable Tree Fruit and Nut Production.	193
7. Grains	195
Northwest
Russ Zenner, Zenner Family Farms, Genesee, Idaho	195
Great Plains
Bob Quinn, Quinn Farm and Ranch, Big Sandy, Montana . .	202
Gabe Brown, Brown's Ranch, Bismarck, North Dakota	207
Gail Fuller, Fuller Farms, Emporia, Kansas	212
Midwest
Ron Rosmann, Rosmann Family Farms, Harlan, Iowa	221
Challenges to the Adaptive Capacity of Sustainable Grain Production.	227
8. Livestock	231
Southwest
Julia Davis Stafford, CS Ranch, Cimarron, New Mexico	231
Great Plains
Mark Frasier, Frasier Farms, Woodrow, Colorado	235
Gary Price, The 77 Ranch, Blooming Grove, Texas	240
Midwest
Dick Cates, Cates Family Farm, Spring Green, Wisconsin . . .	244
Greg Gunthorp, Gunthorp Farms, La Grange Indiana	247

Northeast
Jim Hayes, Sap Bush Hollow Farm, Warnerville, New York . . .	252
Southeast
Tom Trantham, Happy Cow Creamery, Pelzer, South Carolina	257
Will Harris White Oak Pastures, Bluffton, Georgia	264
Challenges to the Adaptive Capacity of Sustainable Livestock Production	268
9. New Times, New Tools: Managing for Resilience	271
Ecosystem-Based Adaptation: Cultivating the Adaptive Power of Nature	272
Adaptive Management: Managing for Uncertainty	272
Understanding Resilience	274
Key Qualities of Resilient Systems	275
Some Additional Resilience Considerations	280
Managing for Resilience	283
Cultivating a Resilient Agriculture	284
Adapting Agriculture to Climate Change: Resistance, Resilience and Transformation	294
From Farm Gate to Plate: Barriers to the Cultivation of a Resilient Agriculture	303
10. Cultivating Food Systems for a Changing Climate	313
Understanding the Food System	317
The Rise of Local Food	325
Adding Resilience to the Menu	329
Cultivating Food Systems for a Changing Climate	333
The Way Forward	336
Index	347
About the Author	357